

Alyssa Tummillo

ASB Book Prize Winner

This year's ASB Book Prize goes to Alyssa Tummillo.

Alyssa is currently a Junior majoring in accounting. Her academic achievements at Ramapo College were recently recognized by her induction into Beta Gamma Sigma, the International Business Honor Society for AACSB Accredited Schools. In addition, Alyssa was selected as this year's scholarship recipient by the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Receiving such honors is nothing new to Alyssa. In her freshman year she was inducted into Alpha Lambda Delta Honor Society which recognizes academic excellence among freshman students and the Golden Key International Honor Society.

Alyssa is well deserving of the Book Prize Award. As you can tell, she has opened a few in her time, ... and quite successfully I might add.
