

Brendan Flanagan. Brendan Flanagan is a senior with a triple major in International Studies, Literature, and Peace Studies (the last being a contract major through the Liberal Studies program). He is also an Honors Student, and for his senior capstone project--guided by Professor Rebecca Root--he conducted a research entitled "Applying Insights from Recent Transnational Justice Scholarship to the Northern Irish Case." His research has been accepted for presentation at the International Studies Association's annual Human Rights Conference, meeting this year in Glasgow, Scotland. He may well be the only undergraduate presenting, as it is a conference for advanced graduate students and academics.

Future Goals: Publish his research and attend graduate school pursuing in Ph.D. in English
