

Caitlin Mahoney

ASB Book Prize Winner

This year's ASB Book Prize goes to Caitlin Mahoney.

Caitlin is currently a junior majoring in Accounting. Her academic achievements at Ramapo College were recently recognized by her induction into Beta Gamma Sigma, the International Business Honor Society for AACSB Accredited Schools.

Caitlin works for the Center for Student Involvement here on campus, has interned with the Morris County Chamber of Commerce in their Finance and Operations organization, and has accepted an Accounting internship position with Price Waterhouse Coopers for this coming summer.

Caitlin has one more year of study to complete here at Ramapo and then plans to use her accounting expertise to pursue a career as a tax professional.
