

Erin Kaplan-Burns

OUTSTANDING ACCOUNTING STUDENT

We'll begin with the Accounting Major.

Because Accounting is such a large major within the Anisfield School of Business, we are authorized to appoint two outstanding students in Accounting each year.

Our first Outstanding Student is Erin Kaplan-Burns.

Almost everyone on campus knows Erin ... that's because she is involved in almost everything on campus. In the interest of time, I considered listing the few things she wasn't involved in, but instead, I'll give you a brief executive summary of her accomplishments:

Erin is currently finishing a two-year term as Student Trustee on the Ramapo College Board of Trustees. As part of that responsibility, she has served on every one of the Board subcommittees. Erin also Chairs a Committee called "College Advocates Supporting Higher Education" which advocates on behalf of Ramapo College to legislators and lobbying groups in Trenton.

In her spare time, Erin serves on the Library Advisory Board, the Greek Life Task Force and the Student Government Association. She has been inducted in to Beta Gamma Sigma, the international honor society for AACSB Accredited business schools, and Omicron Delta Kappa, the leadership honor society.

Erin is currently doing an Accounting internship with L'Oreal Paris, and of course, they have offered her full time employment as a Staff Accountant upon graduation. I expect that she will be running the place quite soon.
