

Jessica Roffe

Major: Social Science Contract Major

Jessica Roffe is a double major in Social Science with a concentration in Gender Studies & Psychology. She has served as a peer facilitator for the past three years and as the Superpeer of the peer facilitators for the past two serving both as the student leader and as the teaching assistant in the formal peer facilitation courses. In that role she has been instrumental in assessing a developing curriculum that has raised the quality of peer competence immeasurably. Jessica has been a career counselor at the Cahill Center, a member of the Women's Center and Feminists United and served on the Advisory Board of CAAFYE. She plans to work next year and then pursue her graduate studies. She is applying for AMERICORP positions in Boston.
