

BIOLOGY - Kathleen Carpio is in both our College honors and TAS Research honors programs. She is very active in College and external organizations. Kathleen performed molecular parasitology research at the New York Blood Center in Summer 2010 and is currently finishing her research at Ramapo College with Dr. Thomas Owen on the role of prostaglandin receptor agonists on bone. Kathleen has been accepted to the Michigan State University, College of Osteopathic Medicine and plans a career in either orthopedics or cardiology.