

BOOK AWARD – Kelsey Chetnik is a junior biochemistry student. She has performed exceptionally well in her classes. She is working on one of the TAS student research project as a volunteer since fall 2011. Also she is actively involved in school clubs including chemistry-biochemistry club (CBC) and ASBMB UAN chapter at Ramapo as one of the student officials. Throughout all of her course work, research and school activity, Kelsey has clearly showed great potential in the areas of biochemistry and life sciences.
