

Africana Studies: Maureen Takach

Maureen Takach has been described as one of the most dedicated and hardest working students in the Africana Studies major. She is a role model to other students because of her professionalism and willingness to tackle any Africana issues topic.

Maureen is looking forward to a future in nursing or teaching.