

MATHEMATICS - Samantha Pezzimenti has been an exceptional mathematics student, researcher, and tutor while at Ramapo College. In addition to excelling at her coursework, she completed a research project on knot theory, which she presented at a national mathematics conference this year, she has been a dedicated mathematics tutor for remedial and general education mathematics courses, and she will begin a Ph.D. graduate program in mathematics this fall.