American Studies

MAJOR: Literature and Spanish. Minor: Latin

About Sarah, One of her professor writes:

Sarah is a rare student: accomplished, poised, engaged, with excellent command of the Spanish Language, and one who produces polished essays of substance. She is the kind of student a teacher loves to encounter and almost hates to see graduate.

Sarah regularly collects awards and distinctions that attest to her remarkable abilities.

She has been inducted into six national honor societies and has won awards from her majors, her School, and the College. She has also won writing awards and has been recognized as an outstanding scholar-athlete.

She will be pursuing a career in Teaching
