

Class of 2025

GRADUATE PROGRAMS COMMENCEMENT

Thursday, May 22, 2025

Arena of the Bill Bradley Sports and Recreation Center
Ramapo College of New Jersey

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Ramapo College Graduate,

On behalf of the RCNJ Board of Trustees, faculty, and staff, I am honored to extend our sincere congratulations to you on your achievement as a member of the Ramapo College Class of 2025.

Today marks the culmination of your doctoral or graduate journey and the launch of your next chapter. The past few years have been challenging. You persevered. You were victorious. You made a difference. Take a deep breath, look around, and enjoy this memorable moment.

As you move into the next chapter of your life, I encourage you to continue to be bold, be kind, and be good teammates. Boldly step outside of your comfort zone and commit to engaging with the histories, communities, and inquiries that surround you. Be kind and humble and commit to acknowledging that you do not know all the answers — the world is far more interesting this way. Be good teammates, and commit to cultivating relationships and fostering community by modeling empathy and respect.

Each one of you will make a unique impact, and I look forward to learning of and boasting about your service and success.

Congratulations, Roadrunner!

Sincerely,

Cindy R. Jebb, Ph.D.
President

GUEST INFORMATION

Welcome to Ramapo College's 2025 Graduate Programs Commencement Ceremony.

The audience is requested to stand during the Processional and the National Anthem.

Out of respect for all graduates, please remain seated until the conclusion of the ceremony. The ceremony will officially conclude after the Recessional, which includes the dais party's departure from the stage followed by the graduates' exit from the arena floor.

Safety: Guests seated in the bleachers are not permitted to stand in the aisles or greet graduates on the arena floor. We appreciate your cooperation with this policy.

Photographs: A professional photographer will photograph graduates as they greet President Jebb on stage and as they pose off stage. Within three days of the ceremony, graduates will receive a secure link to view their photos online and hardcopy paper proofs will be sent in the mail. Contact Island Photography at 1-800-869-0908 or Custserv@islandphoto.com with questions.

A portion of the proceeds from the photography sales support the Class of 2025 Senior Legacy Drive, a time-honored Ramapo tradition that unites the graduating class in supporting The Fund for Ramapo College. Proceeds enable the College to attract and retain its most valuable assets — the students and faculty. Student scholarships, faculty fellowships, student/faculty research grants, and special College projects are some of the initiatives funded through The Fund for Ramapo College. For more information, visit ramapo.edu/giving/senior-legacy-drive.

Congratulations to both you and your graduate! Enjoy the pomp & circumstance of this evening!

GRADUATE ADDRESS

Kimberly Ann Hanna

Class of 2025

Kimberly graduated from Monmouth University in 2021 with a bachelor's degree in Business Administration. As a Bergen County native who grew up in Montvale, NJ, she returned to the area following graduation to pursue her career and graduate degree.

In 2021, Kimberly joined the Azarian Group, LLC where she began her career in Marketing and Leasing. She quickly gained interest in commercial real estate and became a Licensed Salesperson in New Jersey and New York. Kimberly is now the Director of Office Operations, a multifaceted role that primarily revolves around HR and accounting functions. She looks forward to growing more within the commercial real estate industry.

Kimberly enrolled in the Ramapo College Masters of Business Administration (MBA) program in fall 2023. During her time at Ramapo, she was inducted into the Beta Gamma Sigma business honors society. As a first-generation postgraduate student, this achievement, along with earning her degree, represents a significant milestone in her academic journey and professional development.

ACADEMIC HERALDRY

The wearing of caps, gowns, and hoods at college and university functions dates back to the earliest days of the oldest universities, when they were first worn by monks and students to keep warm in the 12th century castles and halls of learning. Their color and style signify the following:

GOWN. The bachelor's gown has pointed sleeves. The master's gown has oblong sleeves, open at the wrist. The doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves.

HOODS. Hoods are lined in silk in the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. If the institution has more than one color, the second color is shown through the use of chevrons. The binding or edge of the hood is usually made of velvet in a color designating the field in which the degree was granted.

MORTARBOARD. The traditional mortarboard (cap) is made from the same material as the gown. Doctor's caps may be made of velvet and may have tassels of gold or in the color of the wearer's degree. Graduates of some institutions wear soft caps.

MACE. The mace symbolizes the Office of the President and is carried by a faculty member who generally leads the Processional for the three major academic ceremonies: Opening Convocation, Undergraduate Commencement, and Graduate Programs Commencement. The Ramapo College Mace, created in 2002, features Ramapo College's seal on a silver medallion. Ramapo College's mace is hexagonally shaped, hand-crafted from solid natural cherry, and custom turned by hand.

During the ceremony, the name of each graduate will be announced while on stage. The School Dean and Program Director will place the hood (included with the graduate's academic regalia) over the head of the graduate. This signifies the graduate's success in completing their respective program.

Ramapo College is proud to share that this year's masters' regalia is made from 100% post-consumer recycled plastic bottles. An average of 25 plastic bottles was used to manufacture each cap, gown and hood.

GRAND MARSHAL

The Grand Marshal for this year's Graduate Programs Commencement Ceremony was selected by the Ramapo College Graduate Council for their service and contributions to the College. The Grand Marshal carries the College mace and presides over the ceremony on behalf of the faculty.

Dr. Stephen P. Rice

Professor of American Studies
School of Humanities and Global Studies

Professor Rice has taught at Ramapo College since 1996 and served as Dean of the School of Humanities and Global Studies from 2013 to 2017. He has an M.A. in History and a Ph.D. in American Studies, both from Yale University, and is author of Minding the Machine: Languages of Class in Early Industrial America (University of California Press, 2004) and co-editor of A Cultural History of the Human Body in the Age of Empire (Berg Publishers, 2012). His research and writing have focused on various aspects of nineteenth-century American history. In 2011, 2013, and 2015 he served as co-director of a workshop for K-12 teachers from around the country on “The Hudson River in the Nineteenth Century and the Modernization of America,” held at Ramapo College and funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities. He is also a founder of the American History Textbook Project (AHTP) at Ramapo, which is an on-going effort to collect American history textbooks intended for use in schools going all the way back to the beginning of the nineteenth century. The collection now contains over 350 books published in every decade from the 1820s to the present and is housed in the George T. Potter Library as Ramapo's first library special collection. Professor Rice was born and raised in Richland, Washington and received his B.A. degree in Philosophy and English from Gonzaga University in Spokane, Washington.
