

Fair Trade Extra Credit Potluck

- Once a week, a student can be assigned to bring in a snack for the class that they made/bought using fair trade goods.
  - Part of a class period could also be designated for many people to go at once
- Once everyone has the food, the student will lead a presentation on what they brought in
- Presentation must include:
  - What ingredients were fair trade
    - If they made it, they can share the recipe with everyone too
  - What brand(s) the fair trade food was
  - A bit of background on the brand(s)
  - Price comparison of fair trade to regular version
  - Where they purchased it / where it can be purchased otherwise
- Teacher can come up with the amount of extra credit they are comfortable giving for the class

Created by Kathryn Cabrera, Hiroo Nakamoto, and Alex Heifetz for ANTH 102 Introduction to Anthropology class (Fall 2018; Prof. Neriko Doerr)