

Sugar

By: Nicole Ceballos

- The Commodity sugar has been around for several hundred years. It is produced in almost every corner of the world! However, over the recent years, one of Americans largest sugar producing companies known as Big Sugar, has sparked controversy in the Florida region. The production of sugar has polluted the crystal clear water in Florida's Everglades. What was once clear water has now been polluted with highly infectious algae that threatens the region, Hundreds of fisherman and Florida's residential are protesting against the company Big Sugar and the way they are polluting the Everglades. Please follow the instgram account: savetheeverglades\_ for more information on how you can help!

