RAMAPO COLLEGE STUDENTS INDUCTED INTO BIOLOGY HONOR SOCIETY

MAHWAH – Ramapo College of New Jersey held an induction ceremony in April for students eligible for membership in Beta Beta Beta, an honor society for students who excel in the study of Biology.

Beta Beta Beta seeks to encourage scholarly attainment in biological science by reserving membership for students that maintain a superior academic record. Beta Beta Beta is dedicated to cultivating interest in biological science and promoting an appreciation of the value of biological study. Each year, Ramapo College's chapter within the School of Theoretical and Applied Science welcomes into membership students who show a strong interest in Biology and who meet the standards of academic achievement set by the chapter. Students may be inducted as regular members, which are lifetime memberships, or year-long associate memberships.
