Ramapo College Offers Microsoft Office 2010 Certification in PowerPoint

(MAHWAH, NJ) - Get certified in PowerPoint in less than four weeks at Ramapo College of New Jersey. Evening classes in Microsoft Office 2010 Certification for PowerPoint runs May 20 through June 12, 2013. Classes meet three nights per week, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Academic Complex, Room B-118.

Students may pursue Microsoft Word, Excel®, PowerPoint® or Outlook® or full suite Microsoft Office Certification credentials as a Microsoft Office Specialist, Microsoft Office Expert or Microsoft Office Master. Visit the Web site to learn the details of the requirements and to review the full schedule for each Microsoft® application: www.ramapo.edu/cipl/certificates/msoffice.html

"The Ramapo Microsoft Office Certification program in PowerPoint offers 32 classroom hours, so students have an increased opportunity to master the learning and put it into practice before they sit for the certifying exam," said Rosa Diaz-Mulryan, assistant vice president for the Center for Innovative and Professional Learning at the College.

Adult learners and students alike choose the Microsoft Office Certification credential to validate their skills and to advance their career prospects in a competitive job market. Successfully earning the certification results in increased academic and job performance by enabling individuals to tap the full features and functionality of the Microsoft Office 2010 software. And, employers welcome employees with these credentials that assure accelerated productivity and improved organizational performance.

Registration is completed online at the Web site's "Register Online" link. Payment may be made online, by check, by purchase order, or by contract with unemployment organizations.

Ranked by U.S. News & World Report as sixth in the Best Regional Universities North category, Ramapo College of New Jersey is sometimes mistaken for a private college. This is, in part, due to its unique interdisciplinary academic structure, its size of approximately 6,008 students and its pastoral setting in the foothills of the Ramapo Mountains on the New Jersey/New York border.

Established in 1969, Ramapo College offers bachelor's degrees in the arts, business, humanities, social sciences and the sciences, as well as in professional studies, which include nursing and social work. In addition, Ramapo College offers courses leading to teacher certification at the elementary and secondary levels. The College also offers six graduate programs as well as articulated programs with the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, New York Chiropractic College, New York University College of Dentistry, SUNY State College of Optometry and New York College of Podiatric Medicine.
