Jarrold Spector of Jersey Boys Fame Highlights First Concert of Performing Arts Dinner Series at Ramapo College

MAHWAH, N.J. -- The Ramapo College Foundation kicks off its Sixteenth Annual Performing Arts Dinner Series on Sunday, October 18 with Jarrod Spector at The Angelica and Russ Berrie Center for Performing and Visual Arts. Spector, a Tony Award nominee from Broadway's Jersey Boys, will present vocal selections of some of the great male singers of past generations – "A little help from his friends."

The Performance Sponsor for this show is Liberty Hyundai of Mahwah and Liberty Subaru of Emerson. Individual dinner series tickets for this performance are $125.

"The Dinner Series is a wonderful opportunity to enjoy a night out with friends while providing valuable support for the College and its students," said Roy Putrino, chair of the Performing Arts Dinner Series Committee.

Hosted by The Ramapo College Foundation, this specially packaged series is a way for philanthropic patrons to experience outstanding entertainment while supporting College scholarships, faculty and student research opportunities and campus capital projects.

Opportunities are available to purchase tickets for the full Performing Arts Dinner Series. The two levels of support are Benefactor (two reserved tickets to each of the four dinners and performances at $1,400) and Patron (one ticket for any of the four performances at $125). A wonderful dinner and fine wines are served before the performances. For additional information, please call Liz Kloak, 201-684-6834 or email lkloak@ramapo.edu.
