The Future of Learning: K12 Insights

February 17, 2022

Group Activity

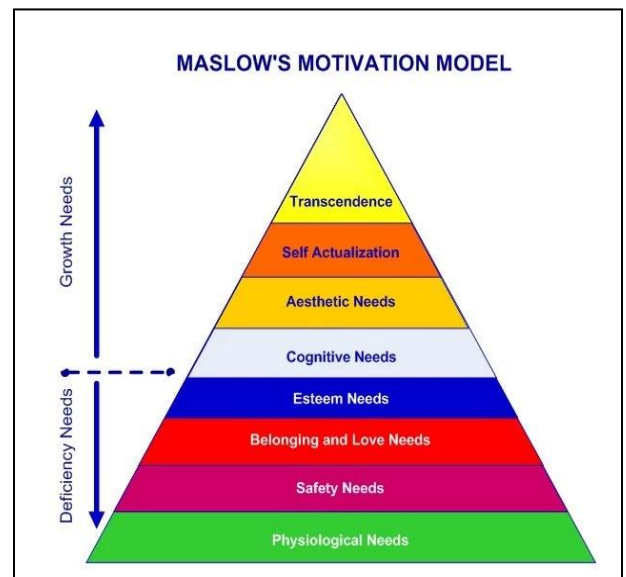

Background

“Enduring great organizations are characterized by a fundamental duality. On the one hand, they have a set of timeless core values and a core reason for being that remain constant over long periods of time. On the other hand, they have a relentless drive for change and progress...” – Jim Collins

Prompt

We are learning that how students learn and think is becoming, in many ways, more important than what students learn and think. Further, we are learning that the physiological, safety, belonging, esteem, and cognitive needs of today’s learners are increasingly complex.

1. As a state institution of higher education, what is Ramapo’s obligation to K-12 learners and educators?
2. How might our College, in partnership with K-12 districts and/or community organizations, enrich this obligation for the mutual benefit of all of NJ’s learners and educators?
