A Key Point of Engagement, as defined by the Student Engagement Steering Committee, is:

- A structured opportunity designed for all first-year students;
- A structured opportunity open to all first-year students; and
- A high-impact activity or an activity leading to a high-impact activity, meaning that it is:
  - A substantive interaction, in class and out of class, with peers, faculty, and staff or
  - A common experience that deepens understanding of self and others or
  - An opportunity to connect in-class and out-of-class learning.
