

NEWSLETTER

THANK YOU FOR RECYCLING RIGHT

In the world of recycling, small steps equal big change. This is especially true when it comes to the things you place in your recycling. We need the right materials to end up in the recycling to help ensure they go on to have a second life.

In the coming weeks, your driver will be tagging carts to let you know if the right materials are being recycled in your cart.

So the next time you recycle, follow these three simple rules:

Recycle clean bottles, cans, paper, and cardboard.

Keep food and liquid out of your recycling.

No loose plastic bags and no bagged recyclables.

These three steps may seem like small acts, but they have a big impact. If non-recyclable household items, such as hoses or bowling balls, make it into your recycling, or items are wet and dirty, the entire load could become contaminated. So when you're in doubt whether something is recyclable, leave it out.

We are here to help you recycle right. Working together, we can strive to ensure that waste is turned into resources for future use and a more sustainable future.

To learn more, visit
wm.com/recycleright

RECYCLE RIGHT

Did you know...

Red tags mean there was garbage in your recycling. Remember the three recycling rules below, and when in doubt, leave it out.

Recycle clean bottles, cans, paper, and cardboard.

Keep food and liquid out of your recycling.

No loose plastic bags and no bagged recyclables.

To learn more, visit
wm.com/recycleright

