Section VI: Decisions

Clause I: Each Panelist must write a response of Yes or No to all decision requests brought before the Panel within ten business days.

Clause II: The responses must be organized and published together in a single decision document by the Panelist who brought the request before the Panel.

Clause III: Concurring Yes or No responses stated by two or more Panelists shall be the official response of the Panel.

Clause IV: The decision shall be published to SGA via email, discussed at a General meeting and contain the following items:

The Request; authored by the Panelist bringing the decision request before the Panel. Shall ask the decision that is requested of the Panel as a single sentence question answerable by Yes or No.

The Response; authored by the Panelist bringing the request before the Panel. Shall state each Yes or No response to The Request and highlight concurring responses as the “Official Response.”

The Ruling; co-authored by the concurring Panelists. Shall render concise statutory parameters agreed upon by all concurring Panelists which shall act as new rules to which SGA is now bound.

The Reason; authored by each Panelist to explicitly state their Yes or No response to The Request, followed by the factors taken into consideration, reasoning of the Panelist and any additional relevant information.

Clause V: Decisions may be overturned by a $\frac{4}{5}$ vote of the Senate within a timely manner.

Clause VI: The Panel shall respond to requests on matters previously addressed, already pending, and not pertaining to SGA with a rejection, which must be concurred by two or more Panelists and announced at a General meeting.

Clause VII: Rulings rendered by decisions shall not circumvent, undermine or invalidate any part of the Constitution or prior decisions.

Clause VIII: Rulings rendered by decisions may strike sections of the Bylaws and passed legislation, introduce articles of impeachment, and dispense disciplinary action.

Clause IX: Decisions shall defer to existing rulings unless all three Panelists concur on an overturning ruling.

Section VII: Hearings

Clause I: The Panel shall hold at least one open hearing during a General meeting to receive testimony on a pending request before the Panel if deemed necessary, unless the hearing is in response to SGA member matters, in which hearings shall be closed and only relevant parties may be invited.

Clause II: Any Panelist may call for additional open or closed hearings and ask for the attendance of any parties relevant to a pending request.

Clause III: The Senate may call for additional open or closed hearings through a two-thirds vote.

Clause IV: Failure to attend hearings as a relevant party shall be considered grounds for impeachment.

Clause V: A written response to questions sent by the Panel may be submitted by the time of the hearing in lieu of attending as a relevant party.

Section VIII: Temporary Panelist

Clause I: A Panelist must recuse themselves from publishing responses to pending requests on the advice of either the President, the Advisors, or the Senate through two-thirds vote, with such advice being concurred upon by two Panelists responding to the same pending request.

Clause II: A Temporary Panelist may be nominated by the President and confirmed by two-thirds vote of the Senate to publish a response to the pending request from which a Panelist has been recused.

Clause III: The President, Advisors, and Senate through two-thirds vote, may establish a secondary Panel of three Temporary Panelists, charged with responding to a specific pending request.

Clause IV: The Temporary Panelist shall hold their position until their response is published in a decision.

Clause V: A Temporary Panelist shall under no circumstance concur with a ruling to overturn a previous ruling; with any such concurrence rendering the entire decision invalid.

Article VIII: Associate Members
