- iv. Service Policy Updates: For anyone who may not be aware yet, I started working last semester to begin the process of creating a Service Policy for Ramapo. Essentially this idea is important to me and should be to you because it will allow students to reference a document that will tell them what constitutes service and what qualifies as service hours for any student at our school. There has been a lot of confusion in the past few semesters regarding this issue and my goal is to minimize the questions of this topic with this tool.

Last semester I held an initial discussion meeting to get the ball rolling with other students' opinions and ideas on the matter. Unfortunately I was disappointed with this turn out, as only one member of SGA attended. I am hopeful that in the next few weeks I can speak to Allene about the next steps, and host another meeting, with a bigger turn out. Without a group to critically think together on this topic, the policy would only cover the perspective of a few students, not the whole student body.

VII. New Business

a. Guest: LaQuan Norman, Director of the Cahill Career Development Center - 2:00

i. L'Oreal Brandstorm Competition

- 1. LaQuan Norman: Thank you for having me here today, I wanted to tell you about this new opportunity for students 18-30 years old. This opportunity is for a global, brand new competition, sponsored by L'Oreal. We had an info center, relatively, even commercially. Looking for teams of three to participate in this competition. The topic is, craft the future of luxury fragrance. And it's not necessarily developing the fragrance, but it's being innovated around the packaging, the way things are delivered, the financing. Anything having to do with marketing, business of this particular fragrance? We have a few teams of 3 that are available, but from a career center perspective, as we're trying to create these relationships with companies like L'Oreal, having a presence with our students is greatly appreciated.
- 2. So what can happen if you participate? You will submit a 3 minute video of your idea with 3 slides to brainstorm.com and Cynthia, you can share that information. You will then be judged on that video and a presentation and chosen as a U.S. winner. The U.S. winner then goes to Paris and presents in the spring, sorry, in June, and the winner of the L'Oreal grand competition globally, then gets a three month internship in Paris with L'Oreal. 3 of you will have a one year management training job after graduation. So it will be a 3 month internship and then an eventual job, right? So this is a really good opportunity, not just for the marketing majors, but for anybody at Ramico that we really like to get involved with.

3. Cynthia: There's Tec involved, there's, like a packaging, type thing, how you promote an idea, having a 3 month internship in Paris, it's actually been changed to a project and make it real. So this isn't just an assignment. They are actually working off of these kinds of ideas. It's national. We'll be competing against, you know, 52 other countries. But it is a really great experience, even if you don't make it all the way there, I mean, this is the time thing that you are interested in doing for your, you know, for your future. Having had brainstorm on your resume is going to be great.
4. LaQuan Norman: Once the teams are together, on the week of February 23rd, we're gonna have what's called the RCNJ Grand Storm Showcase, where you'll be able to pitch your ideas to two members of faculty, a member of the president's cabinet, and then two of the L'Oreal representatives to get feedback on how to craft it and make it a little bit better before you actually submit on marketing. Okay, so we want you to do as well as possible. We want you to be as highlighted with your inventiveness. innovation as possible. So, to contact me or Cynthia if you would like to participate or have more information. We do have a video of the info session from yesterday, so if anybody's interested in that, just let us know and we'll send it to you. But that's all I have. Thank you very much

b. Voting on Appointment of new Secretary of Delegate Affairs

- i. Nominee: Evelyn Santangelo
- ii. James: The main reason we had chosen Evelyn was because of her commitment and her leadership style is very very good for the position, so we thought she would be the perfect fit for the role.
- iii. Liz: We also let Sophia, our former Secretary of Delegate Affairs take the lead, and her and James were mainly the people that were working on these application and with those who applied, determining who was the right fit, and when they told me that they had chosen Evelyn, I was not surprised whatsoever, because she has displayed such excellence in leadership throughout the past three years in SGA and in other organizations and I feel that she was really great fit for taking this program to the next level that Sophia had been setting it up for.
- iv. James: In addition, her organizational skills are very conducive.
- v. Evelyn: Hi everyone, I'm Evelyn, I am very excited to have been nominated for Secretary of Delegate Affairs. My time in senate has taught me to become a stronger listener and the ability to collaborate with others, which I believe are skills that would allow me to support our delegates and ensure they feel welcomed and included into the SGA. If appointed, I plan to continue the Shadowing program that Sophia started when she was in this position, as I believe it is an incredible opportunity for the delegates to not only feel included but also learn about the different positions and potentially take on those roles in the future. Even though I was not part of the delegate program, I was in the delegate committee and through that I was able to see how meaningful it was for the delegates to participate in the shadowing program. And I would love to continue strengthening that program and building on it to keep delegates connected within the SGA. Overall, I bring improved listening skills and also my job on campus as an SI has given me the ability to collaborate and engage with larger groups, and lastly strong organizational abilities which I hope will track the attendance of all delegates for event requirements and their general meeting requirement. And I am committed to supporting you on every step of the way. Thank you very much.

vi. Questions?

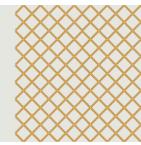

1. James: What are your plans for the delegate shadowing
2. Evelyn: I would work with Sophia, to see really how she ran the programme and do the same steps she had done but as well building on it, to have more delegates involved with this program.
3. Mihir: How do you plan on keeping the delegates interconnected with the SGA? Do you have any initiatives that you would like to do to keep that going?
4. Evelyn: Other than building the foundation like Sophia had I want to continue the delegate tabling and have more representative members go to these tables.

vii. Decision

1. Gianna: I like how she presented herself, I was also in the delegate committee and it is to a tee to Sophia goals and Evelyn shows she wants to continue the shadowing program which I think would be very beneficial for the delegates to get a feel of what the SGA is about and I think she is a great fit
2. James: Evelyn is one of the backbone for so many other organizations and she is always someone you can go to when things happen and always a helping hand. So for that reason I think she is a perfect fit for this role, she is a very reliable person to go to.

3. Ayden: One thing I admire about her is that she is not scared to ask for help especially her still being in contact with Sophia shows she want to better the delegate program.
- viii. Moved: Gianna
- ix. Seconded: Ava

- v. Anything for CHCS?

- b. Matthew - Peer Facilitator and Orientation Leader applications open up on Friday! If you are interested in helping the incoming freshman class acclimate to college life, I highly recommend applying. The applications close on February 15th.
- c. Joe - Any questions or concerns for Facilities?
 - i. Uma: I moved in after the break most of the pipes bursted, our kitchen sink and bathroom, we called facilities and they helped fix it.
 - ii. Tyler: CPA Laundry room there were about 5-6 washers broken
 - iii. Joe: That is for ResLife thing, I would email your RA about this issue.
 - iv. Emily: While at a friend's dorm their toilet was overflowing, because of the strom we had to call Public Safety since facilities had told them they had two options to put in work order or get new emergency housing. I think there should be an option about priority of work orders
 - v. Joe: I have talked to them about doing a new updated system with their work orders because as of right now they are doing work orders by hand still, they have a more outdated system, and I have brought it up of having an option for work orders to have level of priority, I am definitely going to talk about this again with them.
 - vi. Sam: I am realizing this might not be a facilities but over the break there was a small fire in the freshman dorms, and I had noticed the fire hydrant is kinda far and hard for the fire department to get to I am not sure if there that is some facilities handle but I just wanted to bring that up.
 - vii. Joe: Yeah I am not sure who that falls under but I will definitely bring it up and find out.
 - viii. Adyen: Mackin the elevator is broken a lot worse, it is in the ground
 - ix. Joe: I will mention it again to them and of course do a work order in if you are able or also let your RA know.

- x. Melissa: So I have to think that both Adyen and Emily both have said but, I have noticed that the elevator in village building 8 is always breaking, I think from the snow storm it had broken at least 3 time in one day and I have called and put work orders for them and they come fast but I feel bad for always complaining about it but I am not sure if this is something that can be brought up. Also with the point Emily made about the work order system, my roommates and I have noticed that in the fall semester there was a ladybug infestation in our apartment and had connected out RA's and up in work orders to see if there was any way these bugs could be getting in and they never came and fixed the issues, but yesterday we had someone come in for that issue, the work order was placed in October and we had emailed saying the issues had resolved but they still came after 4 months of the work order being placed.
- xi. Joe: With the elevator issue, you did the right thing for emailing and putting in work order, so the company they use to get parts for the elevators take a long time to get sent so anyone notices the elevators making weird noise or anything please put a work order in because they can fix it before it get bad. And with the point about the work orders, I definitely want to talk to them and bring up these issues to them so that we can have a better way for these work orders to get done but thank you for bring these issues up.

d. Ava – Anything for Public Safety or SSHS?

- i. Uma: Shout out to Public Safety for always helping
- ii. Sam: I know it is not directly for public safety but new time can we please get more help for shoveling because the parking lots are a mess. It was a lot and I at one point got lost on where to go.
- iii. James: Kudos for public safety, it was very smooth and they were also nice to move in after break, it was my first time moving back in and they made the process so nice.
- iv. Christian: Kudos to public safety for helping those who had gotten locked out of there rooms in Laurel early Public safety was a big help.
- v. Melissa: I was going to the say Kudos for the new swiping box by the security gate but I drove by the other day and it had been hit again, It was really nice too kinda sad to see it damaged.
- vi. Ava: Wait, really it is?
- vii. Melissa: Yes and I am surprised because it was a metal box.
- viii. Tyler: Yeah I saw it too, the thing completely hanging off.
- ix. Ale: Kudos to Public safety for driving me in the cold.
