Elections Meeting

After enjoying the free food, the elections for next year's math club e-board commenced. All candidates were required to give short speeches about themselves. After that the voting began.

The winners of the elections were the following people:

President - Zhasmina Baramova

Vice President - Keith Veenhui

Treasurer – Delina Agnosteva

Secretary - Megan Mulharin

Publicist - Geena Cockcroft

Then more details about the New Jersey Undergraduate Math competition were announced.

It was also revealed that next week's speaker will be trading strategist and Ramapo alumnus Arindam Kundu.

We played math pictionary before concluding with a raffle at which one of the students won a mathematics book.
